HOME GUARD MEETING

GLENDALE PEOPLE ENTHUSIASTIC AT SECOND BIG DEMONSTRATION

The stage of the High School auditorium is between the statues of Washington, who organized this Republic, and Lincoln, who saved it from dissolution. Looking to the left, a speaker on that rostrum would see a picture of the ruined Coliseum of ancient Rome. To the right he gazes at a rare representation of Homer, who wrote his epic of gods and goddesses, of heroic men and women, long before Rome was.

Man is a fighting animal whose propensities for attack or defense cause continuous repetitions of war cycles—sure to return, though uncertain as to date.

The great mass meeting of Glendale men and women, boys and girls, there gathered last night, dealt with that war cycle which at last has come again—with all its possibilities—dire or glorious, as they may be focussed and guided by the strong man of the cycle and his trusted, puissant co-shapers of national destinies.

Doubtless the God of our fathers foreknew that "Thomas" (the doubter-for-a-season) would-row our Ship of State rightly through all the rocks and breakers safely into harbor at last. Perhaps whom He foreknew He also predestinated and said until Mattison, "Be Jones, and crown that historic name with a new wreath of patriotism, that will inspire the men and women of your cycle to deeds of daring."

Who knows? But surely the heart of "Our Mattison" has been touched by the sacred fire and his tongue given the power to move souls to action. Perhaps that is why Fate selected him to voice the people's thought on Tuesday night and again last night to coin their will into golden action.

In two nights with their connecting day, the Glendale Home Guards grew a quarter of a thousand strong. With the able, willing and greatly admired and trusted Drillmaster Schenck, detailed for faithful efficiency by our Coast Commander, the Glendale Home Guards will soon be prepared to make Glendale and vicinity as safe as our people could expect or wish.

Our wise and faithful City Government may be relied on to provide "the sinews of war," in the way that is right and most practicable. The splendid Glendale Home Guards is the child of their own patriotic initiative, and they will see that it is nurtured and trained in the way it should go.

Last night the People of Glendale, in town meeting assembled, had a musical treat as rich as it was unexpected. The Glendale Municipal Band earned the right to become also the Glendale Military Band, to be supported by the same general taxation of the whole people which ought to provide ways and means to make the Glendale Home Guards the pride of Glendale and the restraining terror to its foes. The great audience enthusiastically carried Mr. A. T. Cowan's appreciative motion for a standing vote of thanks. Perhaps it was Bandmaster Hicks' intuitive perception of coming events which made him and his faithful coworkers hang on and keep on working, and then keep on keeping on, in spite of apathetic lack of appreciation, till the hour had struck. Then he was there with the goods, last night. There is no longer any doubt in the hearts of the people of Glendale that our band is a power for good, a necessity in these parlous times when the hearts of the people will so often need that inspiration and encouragement given only by the music of patriotism and the patriotism of music.

You who were there in the Glendale Union High School last night will understand, and you will make those who missed it understand. But why say "military" or "municipal" or have any other name except just "The Glendale Band," which will soon be known throughout our state on its merits—good for any occasion whatsoever, to supply the music needs of Glendale and, perhaps, be eagerly sought after to meet temporary need in less favored neighboring cities.

The Hon. J. S. Thompson, President of Glendale's Board of Trustees, who presided so efficiently at the City Hall meeting Tuesday evening, was temporary chairman last evening also. When half a dozen Civil War veterans marched up on the stage in answer to his thoughtful and most courteous invitation, they were greeted by enthusiastic and prolonged applause. They cannot go to the front, but they are in our Glendale Home Guard and they will do their part well now, as they did it more than half a century ago.

Though S. A. Davis moved that

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

STYLUS STAFF BUSY—INTEREST CENTERS IN TYRANTS FOR ORATORICAL CONTEST

Much activity has been seen around the Stylus office during the past few days, the reason for this sudden burst of speed being that all of the contests ended Monday, and the several winners will have to be decided upon within the next few days. As there was an abundance of material handed in it will be an exceedingly difficult task for the judges to give their decisions. Miss Knepper, who is the head of the English department, has been helping the different editors this week, and she says that it will be at least a week before the prize winners are announced.

The Freshman, Sophomore and Senior tryouts for the Oratorical contest were held yesterday afternoon in the science lecture room, the music room and the Christian church respectively. Those who participated for the Freshmen were Guy Bennet and Olive Taylor, the latter winning out by a close margin. The subject of her speech was "International Temperance," and was one of the best ever given by a Freshman student. The subject of the loser was "Universal Military Training." The judges were Mr. Clark, Miss Eggert, and Miss Carol Willisford.

In the Sophomore class the field was just twice as large as that of the Freshmen, there being four to try out for the coveted position. The names of the contenders, their subjects, and the positions in which they finished are as follows: Frank Balthis on "Woodrow Wilson, the Man of the Hour," David Johnston on "Belgium," Harold Russell on "California and Preparedness," and Jack Jenkins on "America After the War." The winner put forth some sterling points for the President and as a result of his speech is regarded as one of the closest contenders. The judges were Mr. R. D. White, Dwight Stevenson, and Miss Knepper.

The Senior tryouts resulted in an overwhelming victory for Harold Venske, whose thorough mastery of the subject "The People and the Railroads" revealed the fact that he is nothing short of a genius.. The other contestants were Kenneth Beldin, whose subject was "The Greater Preparedness," and Dan Hagin, who spoke on "How Not to Make Criminals." The judges were Rev. Mottern, Miss S. Swartz and Miss Mallory.

MISS JOLLEY BECOMES BRIDE

On Wednesday evening, April 11, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. C. Jolley of 1426 Salem street, Miss Phyllis Greer Jolley was married to Mr. Harold D. Charlton by Rev. F. A. Field of Glendale. Only a few intimate friends and immediate relatives were present at the simple, but pretty home wedding. The house was very prettily decorated and the bride looked charming in a pale green silk and chiffon gown trimmed in lace. The groom, who is a member of the regiment band of the Seventh Militia, was attended by his comrade, Roy King. Mr. Chandler is a member of the H. W. Charlton Co. of Los Angeles, architects and builders, and saw border service last year with Battery A of the Field Artillery. He is at present in encampment with his regiment, awaiting orders, at Arcadia. The bride is a graduate of the Glendale Union High school and has a wide circle of friends in Glendale.

READING CIRCLE CONTINUES IN INTEREST

The Mutual Benefit Reading Circle yesterday continued with the reading of "Training the Boy." The subject of Habit-training is occupying the portion of the time devoted to reading. The special habits discussed yesterday were those of cigarette smoking and the use of liquor. The author is very positive in his convictions of the destructive influences of both habits on body, mind and soul, and gives valuable advice to mothers in the handling of the habits, both as to prevention and the difficult cure.

The book exchange of the circle has reached such large proportions that it has been found necessary to adopt a system of checking, and to appoint a librarian. Mrs. R. T. Burr was appointed Librarian for the circle.

Thirty-three women attended yesterday's meeting. The guests present were: Mrs. C. G. Farrow, Miss Beresford Joy of Los Angeles, Mrs. H. A. Pennington, and Mrs. F. R. Stofft.

GLENDALE BOYS AWAIT CALL TO COLORS—BAND WILL GIVE CONCERT

Company 21, Coast Artillery of which many Glendale boys are members have been in readiness to receive a call for more than a week. This morning the war department issued orders for two San Diego companies and four Los Angeles companies to report but Co. 21 was not included in this call. The Glendale boys are anxious to get into active service and will be glad to receive orders to report for duty.

MUNICIPAL BAND PLANS CONCERT

The Glendale Municipal band is planning for another concert at the Palace Grand theatre to be given on the evening of April 27. This musical organization is growing in popularity and their recent patriotic demonstrations have won the approval of all Philip M. Hicks is the director and C. D. Furst the manager of the band. Those who heard their last concert will not miss this and it is to be hoped many others will take advantage of the opportunity to show their appreciation of the services rendered by the band.

SAMUEL PARKER ILL

It is with regret that the Evening News makes the announcement that Samuel Parker is seriously ill. Mr. Parker is well known in Glendale and has been particularily a friend of the children. About two days ago he was stricken with paralysis and on account of his extreme old age his ultimate recovery is doubtful.

BOOTH MAKES SUGGESTIONS

F. Booth, who is a man of considerable military experience having served in the Boer war makes the following suggestions in regard to the drilling of the Home Guards. Mr. Booth says, "I would sugegst drills every night excepting Sunday. This will enable all to attend one or more drills each week. Divide them into different companies according to the locations in which the different members reside, then at the first call to arms, each company is ready to march to any given point of danger. This, I believe, would make every married man, or person over military age a protector. What is needed is not too much drill, hiking and marching and counter marching, but familiarity with the gun and taking advantage of cover and not exposing the person unnecessarily because bullets 'they hurt when they hit.' Above all learn to obey orders whoever may be in charge. I believe most all Americans can shoot well and as to pluck and grit have never been found wanting as history can prove. The help of some of the old G. A. R. men for drilling small squads would be a great help and I have no doubt they would gladly offer their services in that capacity. Why not Tropico be asked to join in this defensive movement?"

CHILDREN'S VEGETABLE MARKETS

Plans are going merrily ahead for inaugurating juvenile vegetable markets where young people may sell their homegrown produce, also home-made candy, cut flowers, etc. This movement, which is in line with the appeal sent out by our government to encourage the raising of vegetables at home, has received the unanimous endorsement of the faculty and the P. T. A. of the Intermediate school. Our supervising principal, Mr. Richardson White, has offered his help and services in every way possible to the Glendale Garden Society in this meritorious enterprise. It is expected that the date and location of the first market will be announced in a few days.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, APRIL 12, 1917

HOME PREPAREDNESS

Whole wheat which can be bought in the grain at seed or feed stores, is one of the best all-around cheap and nutritious foods in the country. Every American home should keep a supply of whole wheat. When soaked for several hours and cooked an equal length of time it makes a delicious breakfast food. Ground in a hand grist mill which can be bought for three or four dollars, it is equally palatable when made into bread or used as a cereal.

It has been estimated that whole wheat, cooked over night in a fireless cooker, or cooked all day on the back of the kitchen range, makes a cereal costing 1-16 the price of some of the patent commercial breakfast foods, and furnishes, moreover, fully equal nourishment.

Whole wheat may be cooked without cracking or grinding, but it requires many hours in a double boiler to cook thoroughly. Whole wheat ground in a hand grist mill should be cooked at least three hours over the fire or all night in a fireless cooker. To have the best flavor it should not be too moist. The longer it is cooked, the better. It is possible to cook up enough for several days and warm it over as desired. If whole wheat is soaked several hours, it will not need to be cooked so long.

The Bureau of Chemistry has worked out a recipe for bread made primarily from home ground meal. Two cupfuls of wheat meal, 1 cupful of white flour, 1¼ cupfuls of luke warm water, ½ cake of compressed yeast, 5 level tablespoonful of salt, 1 level tablespoonful of sugar, and 1 level tablespoonful of shortening if desired, is the formula. Dough of this kind has only 2-3 of the usual rise of white bread. It should be baked slowly for ¾ of an hour.

Every American woman should know and use whole wheat.

WOMEN DON TROUSERS

In a class with the hoary and decrepit mother-in-law joke the one about the advanced female donning the trousers has done equally long and faithful service. But lo and behold the latter wheeze has now ceased to be a joke and in these days of 1917 become a stern reality.

Dr. Mary Walker blazed the trail for the wearing of masculine nether garments, I believe, but it took a heap of red tape to keep them on. Mrs. Curie more recently gained the permission of her government to wear 'em after a great deal of trouble and time, but now everybody's doing it with the greatest ease and nonchalance.

Along with the high cost of living and other evils, of course, this feminine penchant for trousers must be blamed on the poor old war. Only this time it is no evil, but a blessing in disguise—of pants.

With the women forced to take over the tasks of males in all the fighting countries, naturally it was meet that they should take over the cut of their clothes as well. One can't very adequately oil engines, plow, drive motors and run elevators all done up in skirts and petticoats.

Sitting on the sidelines, Maiden America and Matron America as well, have calmly appropriated, as they do all imported fads and fashions, those bifurcated garments for their own and pant no longer merely with emotion or exertion but with gingham, denim, chambray, silk and satin.

By a quaint whimsey of fate it isn't the advanced female of the joke who is now wearing the trouser effects, however, but the dear, domestic little wives and mothers, the "Queens of the home" and "the housewives of the hearth."

As a first aid to baking, brewing, sweeping and chores of the home in general, nothing could be neater, sweeter or fleeter than one of the new pantalette housedresses.

STATEMENT BY CONGRESSMAN RANDALL

"Now that Congress has spoken, every American is behind the President with loyal support of his efforts to end the world's war at the earliest possible moment. But until the die was cast and war declared, I reserved my right as a member of the war making power under the Constitution, to vote in accordance with the dictates of my own conscience. I voted against war.

"I shall vote for every measure giving the country's resources to the struggle. But an honorable war is fought by volunteer soldiers, not by conscripted soldiers. I shall not favor tearing the young men of this country from their homes by force of military autocracy.

"We have no men to die in the trenches of European battlefields. We have no money or credits to hand over to the powers across the water.

"Let us fight an American war, solely to protect our rights on the seas, not to assist the allies in their designs. Let us follow Washington's advice, and keep clear of foreign entangling alliances."

CALIFORNIA'S MINERALS AN IMPORTANT WAR RESOURCE

The State Mining Bureau, under the direction of Fletcher Hamilton, State Mineralogist, is starting a field campaign to report on the economic minerals of California, which have an important industrial and military bearing on the present war situation. For the past four years the Bureau has been working on a complete survey of the entire State's mineral resources by counties, field work for which is now practically completed and the results in part published. Particular interest and value attaches at the present moment to our available supplies of chrome, coal, iron, magnesite, manganese, molybdenum, quicksilver and tungsten.

The extent and availability of our petroleum resources, which are so important in modern naval operations, have already been thoroughly covered by the Bureau in its work of protecting the field from damage by faulty operations. As data on the other minerals are already well in hand, trained geologists and engineers of the Bureau's staff are being sent out to bring the information down-to-the-minute with relation to the latest developments in the above-named item. The report will cover the location, size, accessibility to transportation, character, quality, and state of development of every known deposit throughout the entire state.

W. Burling Tucker, Chief Field Assistant, will visit the counties south of the Tehachapi; Clarence A. Waring, field assistant, the counties along the Sierra Nevada Mountains from Tulare northward; Emile Huguenin, field assistant, the counties along the Coast Ranges from Monterey to Del Norte; Walter W. Bradley, Mining Statistician, Siskiyou and Shasta Counties, also quicksilver and research work on the metallurgy of quicksilver. Advance notices will be sent to the local newspapers, from time to time, of the arrival of the engineers in the various districts, so that those interested in the mineral properties may be fully advised and co-operate to the fullest extent in this patriotic work.

The conservation and utilization of our mineral resources, while highly important at all times, are imperative in the present exigency. With the exception of a small tonnage of chrome from Oregon in 1916, and of magnesite from Washington in 1917, California has been the sole source of these two minerals in the United States. For many years California has been, and still is, producing from 70 to 80 per cent. of the quicksilver yield of the United States. This metal is absolutely essential from a military standpoint, as there has not yet been produced a commercial substitute for it in the manufacture of fulminating caps for explosives. California is one of the two main producing tungsten states of the Union. This metal is especially valuable in the manufacture of alloys for high-speed tool steels.

All persons interested in these minerals are earnestly urged to co-operate with the State Mining Burau by meeting the field men while in their districts or by communicating direct with the State Mineralogist at his office in the Ferry Building, San Francisco.

BIRD AND FLOWER CLUB

(By Nanno Woods)

The survey of Glendale vacant lots undertaken by the Bird and Flower Club for the purpose of listing wild flowers, has proved that Glendale is exceedingly rich in native wild flowers. The first Saturday in March and the first Saturday in April were devoted to this interesting stduy. For the benefit of flower students and nature lovers, a list is hereby given: Night Shade, Yellow Mustard, Fringed Gilia, Violet Snapdragon, Scarlet Bugler, White Forget-me-not, Sunshine, Lupin truncata, Brodiea, Suncups, Wild Pie-Plant, Chia, Pepper, Wild Cucumber, Tarweed, Owl's Clover, Wild Radish or Purple Mustard, Blue Gilia, Yellow Glaubrius, Woolly Breeches or Yellow Forget-me-not, California Poppies, Lupin bi-color, Tidy Tips, Sweet clover, Wild Pea, Coulter's Snapdragon, Yellow Hosackia, Wild Portulaca, Shepherd's Purse, Everlasting Pearl, Lupin (small). This gives 32 varieties of wild flowers growing during the months of March and April in our vacant lots. But every day, as the season advances, discloses fresh beauties. He that hath eyes to see, let him see. The next meeting of the Bird and Flower Club will be held on the first Saturday in May, when a trip will be taken to Eagle Rock Park to study birds. A free invitation extended to everybody, big and little, old and young.

AN EXPLANATION

To the Public.

In the Glendale News of April 10th, appeared an article under the caption "Auto Accident" which without a full explanation on the part of the Management of the Relax Home & Hospital—(formerly the Mission Hospital of Tropico) places them under unjust censorship.

We have from the first made every effort to establish ourselves in the mind of the public that the Relax home part is to be established as a Rest Home. That the Surgical side is set aside for private surgical cases. That a Rest Home cannot fill its place and do justice to those who come for the purpose of Relaxing and Resting, if they are to be startled by an ambulance gong, and people rushing in and out in an excited way as is always a case, without patients being aware of it, and to their undoing. Such private cases would have just cause for complaint if this order of things were to prevail. It is so easy for the public to pass judgment before inquiring the motives of those they censor.

We are not prepared to take ambulance cases. Have not equipped ourselves for such. Have only taken out our license for private hospital, and would lay ourselves open, not only to criticism if we attempted taking cases when not prepared, but in having malpractice suits to deal with. The service of our nurses as well as my own will be in readines to go with ambulance or autos without charge, to any General Hospital when called upon. Patients who come in purposely for a rest and with the understanding that the place is not a General Hospital, have rights to be protected, as they are paying for just such conditions.

ARCHITECTS FOR THE FUTURE

Public aeroplane landings and private landings and hangars may furnish problems that will tax the skill and ingenuity of the architects and consulting engineers of the next decade, according to men who have watched the rapid development of the science of aeronautics .

Architects may spend many sleepless nights trying to devise a method of making a hangar harmonize with modern residence or landscape architecture. A three-machine hangar with living rooms for the aviator on the second floor will not add to the attractiveness of a Dutch Colonial residence and the spectacle of a hangar in the immediate vicinity of an Italian garden, would jar the aesthetic sensibilities of an Esquimo. Perhaps some architectural genius of the future will introduce the world to an aera era of architecture.—Builder and Contractor.

A Minneapolis man advertises that he is the "originator of ladies' garments." The abandoned wretch probably does not realize how much he is responsible for.—Chicago Tribune.

Professor Yerkes, of Harvard, says he has an orang-utan which is more intelligent than a three-year-old human child, but the professor has not mentioned this interesting fact to the child's mother.—New York Sun.

HOME GUARD MEETING

Mr. Thompson continue as chairman, he insisted on retiring, saying the City Government had brought matters to the point where the people should take charge. Professor Oliver, of the High School Department of Mechanical Arts, moved that Mattison B. Jones be our chairman. With one voice we shouted "Aye."

In substance he said, with deep feeling, that the extraordinary meeting at City Hall the night before was a great surprise to him. He never saw anything like it in Glendale. Glendale had aroused as her true self. Glendale the Beautiful had become Glendale the Puissant. It was a transformation, a revelation. He expressed regret for citizens who missed that first meeting of awakening. There could never be another like it. To have been there was a privilege to remember and be grateful for. "I did not know the extent and intensity of Glendale loyalty. I am glad to be with you here to-night to further what last night was so gloriously begun."

To show how suddenly and effectively the hearts of the Peace Party are changing, he told of a United States Senator who had fought the declaration of war to the last minute. But had then publicly announced: "Now that it is decided, hereafter I shall see no thing except the flag of my country. I shall hear no call except the call of my country." (Great applause.)

Mr. J. H. Franklin, a newcomer, was not known to the speaker, and gave his name on request. He is known to The News as a lawyer from Lawton, Oklahoma, who came to Glendale about a month ago, residing at 200 South Central avenue. He is the father of Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, the popular and accomplished secretary of the Glendale Auxiliary to the Los Angeles Chapter of the American Red Cross Society. Mr. Franklin said, in substance: "I also was in City Hall last night. Like yourselves, I was surprised and pleased to see the loyalty and devotion to our country and the willingness of Glendale's people to combine for whatever should be done. Few appreciate the gravity of the situation. The United States to-day faces the greatest crisis of its history. Never was a time when our liberties were so threatened. Every ounce of power and patriotism will be needed before this war comes to an end. If we are not successful in this war, the liberties of this nation are gone. It is no child's play. German emissaries are in Russia to wrest forcible peace from Russia. Then Russia will become an ally of Germany against our own country. The Home Guard ought to be as well trained and efficient as any in the United States. If our services are needed—though I hardly believe that time will come—we must play the part of true soldiers."

Mr. Franklin Moore, of The People's Store, 1008 Broadway, offered his new invention to protect our homes and dear ones. It is a movable fortress which will shield 25 or 30 machine guns and a hundred men, adjustable in a minute, making more efficient defense or attack than a whole regiment of soldiers under ordinary conditions. His announcement was greeted with enthusiastic appreciation, and the proper officials will examine his wonderful invention, which will keep the peace by the terror it would inspire in a threatening mob.

Sergeant Schenck expressed his pleasure at being detailed by his commander to drill the Glendale Guard, since he could not go away with his regiment if they are called to action. It will be hard work, continuous grind. It will take four or five months—perhaps longer. The Glendale Home Guards may be called out to suppress a mob. They must learn to do that without firing except in cases of necessity. That requires trained courage as well as mechanical ability to use fist or clubbed rifles. You will be under military discipline, same as regular soldiers. Nothing can be accomplished without such discipline. That for the young men. But the old men and the younger boys have their parts also. The Boy Scouts have done some wonderful work. We have guns good enough to drill with. But our weapons must be good enough to shoot with, if we meet that necessity. Our ammunition, our guns and other equipment will cost money. I know how and where to get the best for the least money as I was supply sergeant long enough to understand. We will have blue books of instruction this week. Last night I got my orders: "No fooling. Get rid of any such. This is the work of earnest, patriotic men. No others will be kept." With such material as I find here, I assure Glendale I will give her the very best there is. Lieutenant Ben Wilde will be the first lieutenant in the temporary organization, till the time you elect your own officers, after you see what material you have to select from. He has worked hard and faithfully in the preliminary organization. I have other good men in view for action as soon as things are in shape.

Mrs. Wm. Herman West was unanimously made temporary chairman of the Woman's Auxiliary to provide ways and means. She called a meeting of the women to organize at 3:15 next Tuesday afternoon just after school. Mrs. West, a very clear and forcible speaker, said simply: "I feel that I am not capable of this, but I will do the best I can. If anything can be done to get money out of you men, we will get it."

Mrs. Ella W. Richardson very aptly suggested that now was a good time to take up a collection. Motion adopted without a dissenting voice. Result proved its wisdom. $142.50 raised in a few minutes by Mrs. West and several soldier boys passing around the military hats of the young heroes we all value so highly right here in Glendale.

Judge Lowe asked when and where we should go to take the oath of enlistment and be examined. The chairman said the public subscribers would each be personally notified by postal card when arrangements are ready.

Rev. J. H. Henry, a Civil War veteran, known and loved by many, sang a good old song of the olden times with great feeling. As the chairman announced, Dr. Henry can both sing and speak in a remarkable manner.

"'Twas many years ago. Oh the years, how they fly.
Soon we shall gather on the last camp ground."

Col. Ginger kindly offered to give the Guards the benefit of his long and successful experience in raising money for such purposes. His proposition will go before the proper committee. He has the distinction of being the youngest soldier from Indiana who went through the whole Civil War.

Mr. Thompson moved that a committee of five be appointed by the chair to appoint a committee of 25 on finance. Mr. Howe amended by moving that said committee ask the City to support and equip the Glendale Home Guard by taxation. Ten thousand dollars may be needed. Carried. Seconded by Prof. White. County Clerk Mr. Lewis elected secretary.

The Chair appointed the Committee of Five: A. T. Cowan, Chairman, Clem Moore, Mrs. Ella Richardson, John Robert White, Jr., and W. B. Kirk. Mr. Cowan asked that they meet him there after adjournment.

Mrs. Stephen C. Packer was made temporary treasurer of the Woman's Auxiliary.

Dr. Jesse A. Russell asked if the Hollywood Woman Auxiliary had organized. They had not. If necessary, Glendale will help the families of soldiers suddenly called to arms. Glendale's heart is as large as her pocketbook for any necessity of our soldiers or the loved ones they leave behind them when they march away in the service of our common country.

Chairman Jones, on behalf of the people of Gelndale, thanked all who had contributed to the success of those two meetings and the objects so nobly attained.

Public notice will be given if another mass meeting be wanted.

And so the great transaction was launched on its successful, efficient way and all the people are grateful.

LOFTY SENTIMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bradley of 1617 Oak street have reason to be proud of their son Howard. But twenty years of age, he is already a thorough soldier, fully trusted by his officers and makes a fine appearance in his soldier outfit. More than this he can express his patriotism in words that thrill the hearts of all, as witness this bit of verse composed by him to be sung to the air "America."

Stand by the Flag

Boys of the Golden West,
Our bravest, truest, best,
Stand by the flag.
Emblem of Freedom blest,
O'er vale and mountain crest,
Our loyalty attest,
Stand by the flag.

With patriotic pride,
Whatever fate betide,
Stand by the flag.
In Hope and Faith abide,
On land and ocean tide,
Throughout the world and wide,
Stand by the flag.

THE HOMELIKE CHURCH

Sunday's service was a fitting culmination to the week of prayer observed by the women of the church under the leadership of the C. W. B. M. auxiliary and the week of revival meetings, all leading up to decision day, Easter Sunday, when 21 children from the Bible School confessed their faith in the Master. Many of our members attended the services in the early morning on the Verdugo mountains. The morning sermon on "The Fact of the Resurrection" was a convincing argument for the validity of the Christians belief. The evening sermon on the subject "Can You, or Five Things a Man Cannot Do" presented some new ideas to all who heard the address. Brother Cole let straight from the shoulder in this sermon and presented many home truths in a convincing manner.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to the many people of dear little Glendale for the many kindnesses shown to myself and son Harry during his illness and at the time of his death, especially Rev. Father O'Neill, the Elks and Mr. Stanley Frentz. MRS. M. GRAHAM.

He who loathes war, and will do everything in his power to avert it, but who will, in the last extremity, encounter its perils, from love of country and of home—who is willing to sacrifice himself, and all that is dear to him in life, to promote the well-being of his fellowman, will ever receive a worthy homage.—Abbott.

DYING FOR ONE'S COUNTRY

It was Nathan Hale who sale, "I regret that I have but one life to lose for my country." And it is Horace that makes one of his heroes say: "It is sweet and glorious to die for one's country." There have been many and striking illustrations of this in our country's history. It is said that the untimely fate of Col. Owen Roberts, who fell a Stono, was cause of universal regret. He was an inflexible patriot, an excellent disciplinarian, and enthusiast in pursuit of military fame. His son, who was in the action, hearing of his morfortune, hastened to him. The expiring veteran perceiving in his countenance the liveliest sorrow, addressed him with great composure: "I rejoice, my boy, once again to see and to embrace you. Receive this sword, which has never been tarnished by dishonor, and let it not be inactive while the liberty of our country is endangered. Take my last adieu, accept my blessings, and return to your duty."

LA CANADA

Thrilled with the fascination of the tropics, Joe Bonzo of N. Haskell street, has returned from a two months trip to Central America.

Encouraged by the promise of a position with a large shipping company, young Bonzo sailed for the southland. Upon reaching his destination he found that the object of his aim, the shipping company, was dissolved. After securing another position Bonzo took a look over the country. Viewed it from its possibilities.

"Although wages are high," said Bonzo, "living is high in the same proportion. But if a fellow went to Central America or South America with a little capital and with the object of investing it, there is no doubt but what he would make good."

Although his first trip was not successful financially, Bonzo has felt the call of the tropics and thoroughly intends to return south. He speaks four different Romance languages. This will doubtless be a great asset in those countries.

H. E. White, deputy assessor of the district including La Canada, is now on his job "going the rounds."

During the past week Marion Lee, who had been driving the jitney buss for the Flintridge garage, gave up his job and was succeeded by Howard Stickney. Ex-Senator Flint was anxious that in hiring a driver, prefence be given to La Canada boys.

At the annual school trustee election held last Friday at the school house, Mrs. Howard Cooper stepped out of her three-years term and Mr. P. H. Johnson was elected to fill the place as one of the La Canada grammar school trustees.

Mr. Johnson, Mrs. Penfield, of Hillard Avenue, and Mrs. Cooper were the three nominees. The election results were as follows: Mr. Johnson, 48; Mrs. Penfield, 37, and Mrs. Cooper, one. Thus the board of trustees stands at the present time, Mr. C. B. Anderson, A. T. Smith, and P. H. Johnson.

Several families from La Canada attended the five o'clock sunrise Easter services last Sunday morning at the Eagle Rock. Aside from the unusually beautiful services the audience was favored with songs by the noted Ellen Beech Yaw.

In the presence of a well filled church, the annual Easter exercises took place last Sunday morning at the La Canada Congregational church.

The pulpit and railing around the front platform were tastily decorated with large white lilies and greenery.

After two especially well rendered selections from the choir, Dr. Scott gave an Easter sermon, full of practical, useful Easter messages.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Fenton Knight brought their young son, T. Fenton Jr. to be baptized. Also Dorothy Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Johnson, was sprinkled.

Sunday saw one of the largest audiences the La Canada church has ever held on Easter. There was scarcely a vacant seat.

"This is a good beginning for the new season," was the statement made by a La Canada citizen.

It has been generally understood that petition, which requested that the portion of La Canada lying below the 1500 foot level be annexed to Pasadena, was recently withdrawn.

Whether this wi'l lead to another similar petition or an entire rearrangement of affairs is uncertain. It is doubtless true that definite action in regard to local government will be delayed.

A corps of orange pickers from the Pasadena Orange Growers Association, with C. D. Barnum of Fairview Avenue as foreman, have been organized under the same system as the La Canada Lemon pickers.

This body of men are hired regularly to go from one orchard to the other as each needs picking. This has been found from practical experience the most systematic and safest way to dispose of the fruit as it ripens.

Mr. Beckman, secretary and manager of the Pasadena Orange Growers' Association, has been particularly solicitous in regard to the La Canada Orange growers. He has recently made several trips to this valley to make sure that the oranges were picked at the proper time.

In an effort to capture the two would-be burglars, who unsuccessfully attempted to rob R.C. Cornwell two weeks ago, the Pasadena police arrested two men last week and another man on Sunday morning. All three were released because of lack of evidence.

The suspect of last Sunday was a foreigner, small, dark, wore glasses, and spoke with a distinctly foreign accent. The police believed him to be the man because of the apparent identification of the horse. The two men who attempted burglary drove a horse hitched to a spring wagon. The police believed that the rig was rented from a Pasadena livery stable. After being threatened with arrest the owner of the livery stable told the police to whom he had rented that horse and wagon.

Mr. Ralph Cornwell, who was the chief participant in warding off the robbery, testified as to his knowledge of the men. Evidence was insufficient to convict the men.

With a membership of fifteen a branch Red Cross organization was established last Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. M. Howard of Michigan Avenue.

Instigated by Mrs. Murry, of Craig Avenue, who has been particularly interested in the institution, a meeting for the La Canada women was called last Tuesday to arrange for a Red Cross organization. Mrs. J. M. Howard kindly offered her home and urged all the women to come.

Out of the twenty women present fifteen signed up as regular members. Several pledged themselves.

The La Canada Red Cross association as it now stands is a branch of the Pasadena association. But it is the plan of the La Canada branch to work into an independent chapter. For the present all instructions will come through Pasadena.

At the meeting last Tuesday the women worked on different kinds of bandages. During the short time an unusual amount of work was accomplished. If it is possible to procure a machine the women will be able to do something other than hand work.

Next Tuesday afternoon (April 17) at 2:30 Mrs. J. M. Howard of Michigan offers her home again for the benefit of the La Canada Red Cross. This meeting is not merely for members of the organization but all the women in the valley are invited and urged to attend. This will be the first regular meeting. Whether or not you have any intention of joining, the leaders in this movement ask everyone to be present, if possible.

TUJUNGA

Our Railroad

The people of this whole valley will be interested to know that a meeting was held last Thursday night, April 5, at the Bolton Hall, for the purpose of talking over the railroad situation. About one hundred and twenty-five people were present. Mr. Fred M. Ashby was made chairman, and Mr. Rowley was chosen secretary. Mr. Ashby on taking the chair presented the subject in substance as follows. The railroad company were willing and ready to build and equip the railroad, when the money for the right-of-way was subscribed, not asking anything as a bonus, but that they must be guaranteed money sufficient for the right-of-way.

It seems that many are willing to give the right-of-way across their property, while others whose property is so badly damaged in the manner of crossing it, felt they must be paid the extent of the damage.

It seemed to be the concensus of opinion of those present that those people so damaged should be recompensed, and knowing the ultimatum of the railroad, that they must be given the right-of-way, the question was then discussed as to the best method of raising this money. The secretary Mr. Rowell made the statement as coming from the railroad company, that none of this money subscribed need be paid until the railroad was completed and ready for operation and then if some could not pay only a part of their subscription, the balance could be put into negotiable paper, and extended into different payments for the extent of ten years, the railroad only desiring a guarantee that they would ultimately be paid for the right-of-way On vote being taken it was thought best to raise the money by public subscription.

Mr. Rowley headed the list for he and his brother of two hundred dollars each. Others subscribed from ten to one hundred dollars each, reaching the grand total of $1335. All felt very much encouraged in the progress made, feeling assured when the people understood the situation sufficient funds would soon be secured to pay for the right-of-way, and then every one would rejoice in a railroad, they had been so patiently waiting so long for. We all know this is the plan of every railroad when going into a new section or town. Yet as we realize the benefits that come to us in added values, and transportation we surely ought to grasp the situation, and cheerfully donate our part, doing it as an investment, feeling assured that in this case you will win. The chairman and secretary announced they would gladly any receive subscription that might be handed in to them, before the next meeting on Thursday night April 12, to which time this meeting adjourned.

Last Thursday afternoon April 5, the Ladies' Aid and Womans' club joined in a delightful program at Bolton Hall, Mrs. Garth of Los Ange'es gave a most excellent reading of the story of Hannah. After which she retired to the residence of Mrs. Ward, there reciting the Bells of Luk, much to the pleasure of all. Capt. Hatch also gave a very interesting and patriotic talk on preparedness. The Club is certainly deserving of much praise, for such praiseworthy entertainments.

New people are seen on our streets every day now looking for homes to rent or property to buy.

Dean and Co. report the following rentals: Mr. and Mrs. Catt's residence on Sunset Boulevard to Col James F. Covey, a retired army officer of thirty years' service.

Miss Gilbert's residence on same avenue to Mr. and Mrs. William Ludwig.

Sales as follows: Two acres at the head of Los Angeles street to Mr. M. C. Treat from Pasadena who will erect a two thousand dollar bungalow. Mr. Treat is building this home he says for a rest and recreation home, realizing he can find no more beautiful, restful and healthy spot in all of Southern California.

Mrs. Hilliard of Long Beach has also purchased a lot on Los Robles street and will build a home at once.

The Western Empire association reports sales as follows: Four acres on the slope west of the valley and the Tujunga canyon.

H. V. Brummel of Glendale has also purchased from the association lot five of two acres on Manzanita Drive just south of the Wells place, near Walnut street.

The Practical Patriots league of Los Angeles offered a prize for the best patriotic song that will extol the aims and ambitions of the league.

Tujunga is delighted to know we have talent in our midst who is aspiring for the prize. While we are not sure of winning the prize for Tujunga, yet the verses composed by Miss Flora Rodeheaver are of so much merit we are glad to give space for their publication. Good for you Flora do some more.

The Man Behind the Gun

Forth to the fight! Stand for the right,
Show them your valor and courage and might.
You count for one! Stand by your gun
Prove that your "Uncle" is not "on the run.

For peace we trust! But we'll not rust!
We'll fight with vigor and vim if we must
And if we run, t'won't be for fun,
It will mean business, and toward the gun.

"Hasten the day," let us all pray
When every country will peacefully lay
All arms aside; peace nation wide
Fold and embrace us while time shall abide.

The Easter services of the Federation church in Bolton hall was very interesting and well attended both morning and evening. The evening being the first service for evenings as they will be held during the spring and summer. The service began with songs by the young people followed by a very eloquent and uplifting talk by Rev. Wieman, taking for his subject the good that may come from this war, showing how out of the terrific disaster of war and its devastation good may come. Mr. Maxwell, the well known advocator of the National Service system and the Home Croft idea for every man of military age. His talk bristled with patriotism and enthusiasm and was highly appreciated by all present. We understand he is to talk along the same lines every Sunday evening. All who do not hear him will surely miss a great treat.

The Federation will give a reception to the community at large on Wednesday evening, April 18th, at Bolton hall. It is under the auspices of the Fellowship committee of the Federation assisted by the various other Federation committees. It's object is to establish and foster a mutual feeling of good will and fellowship between the community and the Federation. The Federation is seeking, at least in part, to meet the real needs of the community.

The Ladies' Guild of the Episcopal church met Tuesday afternoon of this week at the home of Mrs. Mc Cue for a social interchange of views for the coming church work of that church. The hostess served light refreshments.

The Friday morning Round Table will meet at Manzanita Park, weather permitting. In case of rain or cold the meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Limeberg. The Circle has just finished the reading of the book Christianity and the Social Circes by Walter Rauschenbusch, and the program for the day will consist of a review of the book by the members. This will also be guest day and a pleasant and profitable time is anticipated.

The regular meeting of the Colonial Dancing and Social club will be held Saturday evening, April 14, at Bolton hall.

People interested in the formation of a Home Guard met at the post office on Tuesday evening and ten men signed up to take up the work and drill. In addition to the meeting next Thursday on the railroad matter will be taken up the Red Cross subject and further consideration will be given the Home Guard proposition.

Percy De Wello our most popular and affable auto stage driver from Sunland to the arilroad has been summarily laid off by the railroad company, much to the astonishment and regret of every inhabitant of Tujunga. Always kind, courteous and obliging and a careful driver the people are all at a loss to know why the change. The railroad company could not gain the good will of Tujunga people better than to reinstate him. We hope it may be done.

They say in Redondo with the high price of water, they let the potatoes burn rather than furnish water to cover them. Who would live in Redondo any way? Come to Tujunga. No burned potatoes here.

Who said we were going into Los Angeles to help pay their bonded indebtedness? Not much! This whole beautiful foothill suburban section wil soon be incorporated including La Crescenta, Sunland and Tujunga with Tujunga as the hub. Then with our railroad just watch us grow.

Good for Glendale. They feel all swelled up in the beautiful city down the valley over the proposition of a six-story hotel and other vast improvements of Mr. Ambrosini. Never mind, good people, we may have on Ambrosini in Tujunga one of these fine days.

LA CRESCENTA

Mrs. Hoogezeil went to the Good Samaritan hospital last Monday to have her tonsils removed.

Mr. Johnston from the Bible Institute is back again to teach the boys' Sunday School class and to superintend the Christian Endeavor.

The eighth grade journeyed to Glendale High School last Wednesday, where they expect to study "?" next year.

Mrs. A. H. Aiken spent Saturday and Sunday at the Terrace with her brother.

The Middlekaufs visited La Crescenta Friday, April 6th. They enjoyed seeing some of their neighbors again.

La Crescenta will cross bats again Saturday, April 14, at Montrose at 2:30 p. m. The winning team will get a new ball.

One of Mrs. Rheinschild's chickens laid an egg which weighed ¼ lb. and measured 6 inches around the middle and 7¾ inches lengthwise.

The following is the temperature for the past week, April 4 to April 9:

	Max.	Min.
April 4	75	51
April 5	81	50
April 6	77	49
April 7	70	50
April 8	61	47
April 9	50	38

The Sunday School children gave a very pleasing program at the church Sunday morning.

Mrs. Duane and Mrs. Pease, who were staying in Miss Banning's house, left Tuesday for Philadelphia.

Ted Hopping is having a swell time this week with the mumps.

The Woman's Missionary society held a very interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. W. F. Brown Friday, April 6. The subject was The American Negro. Mrs. Weatherbee gave a splendid report of the annual meeting of the Presbyterial society recently at Pasadena.

Mrs. Lamotte passed away Tuesday morning at the Methodist hospital. The funeral was held Thursday from Pierce Undertaking Parlors. The burial was at Tropico.

Last Friday Mr. Thompson was re-elected to serve on the school board.

The Ladies' club met Wednesday to discuss the formation of a Home Guard and a Red Cross society. Mrs. McCay spoke.

The Foothill Federation held its monthly meeting Monday, April 10.

SERVANTS AS HOSTS

A curious custom exists in the town of Port of Spain, in the island of Trinidid. Every year the servants, who are all black, give a grand ball for their masters and mistresses. The Princes building, a huge place where all public entertainments are held, is engaged, and everything is done in the best style. There are two halls for dancing, one for the servants and the other for their guests.

The best band in the island is engaged, and the guests are given a banquet.

Etiquette is very strict and precedence rigidly observed by the servants, the governor's butler and his lady going in before the chief justice's groom, and so on.

PLAIN HUNGER

"Doctor, what disease is the most prevalent among the poor?"

"An alarming condition in which the nerve terminations in the stomach stimulated by accumulated secretions of the gastric glands send irritations to the spinal cord by way of the pneumogastric nerve."

"Goodness! How awful! And to think that we rich people can do nothing for those unfortunate sufferers!"—Cleveland Leader.

LOST A BOARDER

"Disease germs are everywhere."

"Well, doctor, I was going to your sanitarium for a month, but in that case I might as well stay at home."—Exchange.

FORCE BACK OF JUSTICE WILL BRING PEACE

Peace among nations under international law can only come as, ages ago, peace came among individuals under municipal law. The first vital step toward securing peace within the community was taken when people by actual deed showed themselves willing to interfere against the wrongdoer in quarrels which were not their own. Until this was done each family had to protect its own members under penalty of destruction. No mere tribal opinion was of the slightest avail until it was backed by force; until that time, the strong barbarian disregarded it with a contempt as great as that which German militarists have shown for American pacifists. The advance is made only when, for the sake of the common good, men were willing and able to render service at risk to their own lives. Peace was won only by the use of force in the interest of justice. The marauder baron cared nothing for either the fear or the ill will of unarmed peasants and townsfolk; and the outcome of violence between himself and a rival marauder was of interest only to themselves. Unarmed righteousness is useless and armed unrighteousness hurtful. Progress came only when those who desired the peace of justice transplanted their desires into action and with prepared strength smote the marauder. When, in the interest of justice, men armed themselves and fought in quarrels not immediately their own, the reign of the peace of fair dealing was at hand. Even so will it be with nations. The peace of international justice will come only when just nations, with prepared strength, stand ready to put an end to injustice.—Roosevelt in the April Metropolitan.

WILL MOBILIZE HOME GARDENERS

Monrovia boys and girls, though they are not old enough to join the army or be Red Cross nurses, can help their country win its war, according to Dan E. Clower, head of Monrovia's school gardening department, who commenced Monday the mobilization of his small army of grade and high school gardeners.

"The food problem will play its part here just as surely as it is now in England, France, Germany and other countries devastated by war," said Mr. Clower. "If our boys are called into service, the children at home can do their share by helping to keep down the high cost of foodstuffs, and they can do this by gardening."

According to Mr. Clower the problem now is not of marketing, but of production, and he proposes to continue the present gardening activities of his students right through the summer, provided, of course, that we are then at war.

Mr. Clower says he can secure 25 acres of good land in Monrovia for these gardens, and he believes he can find enough energetic and patriotic boys and girls to manage these crops.

To direct this war-garden work Mr. Clower has abandoned plans for a summer post-graduate course in the University of California.

While girls will probably not be as successful as boys in crop production, they will be stars when it comes to putting up fruit and vegetables, is the belief of Mr. Clower, who is planning a number of crops that do particularly well for canning. "There is a big saving here," he says, "for we can produce tomatoes, for instance, at one-eighth of a cent a pound, while it costs from three cents to five cents a pound when we buy them canned.—Monrovia Daily News.

LET THERE BE BUT ONE AMERICA

A calamity that threatens the whole lot of people in common suddenly brings them together. Each one puts forth the best that is in him. If he has held a previous grievance he postpones it until later on. He knows that the grievance will wait but the calamity will not.

This is the common experience of mankind. It has happened over and over again since the world began. It will probably always happen.

But what invariably astonishes us most, after we have once gotten together, is the fact that we have not done it before. We now suddenly perceive that what we thought were differences were not differences at all; what we thought grievances were not grievances at all. We look back on our former petty attitude, upon all our silly bickerings, upon our queer personal feelings of pride, with dismay and pity and with a certain calm joy that, if nothing else, the calamity has restored us to our senses and given us a broader view of our duties and obligations to our fellow men.

This is what is now happening to all Americans. This is what is making us, not an aggregation of states, not a heterogeneous collection of human beings, but a whole people. Let the stragglers who are still outside the sheepfold, therefore, come in at once. Let there be but one America.—Country Gentleman.

A FAMILY ORCHESTRA

When two people conduct an orchestra there is plot material. If the two are knit by marriage ties the plot thickens. Endicott and I conduct a family orchestra, he at the piano, I playing second violin. I know more about music than does Endicott; he is more musical than I. I keep the time; he has the temperament. Temperament is more noble than time, but time, I shall always insist, has its place, perhaps nowhere more appropriately than in an orchestra. He at the piano can dominate the situation more neatly than I. In my position among the strings, however, I can more readily organize a strike.

The rest of the pieces are presided over by our children, young people of inflexible spirit and chromatic moods. Sometimes we doubt whether we have our troupe under the rigid control which as parents we might expect to command. The conductivity of an orchestra, says our son Geoffrey, varies with the distance of the blood relationship between artists and conductor. When the children were little we held the pleasant theory that a family orchestra would draw us all close together, standing always as a symbol of our perfect harmony. That would be all right if the harmony would only go to suit us all equally at the same time. As it is our little band, in which observers fine so touching a picture of hearthside unity, suggests sometimes all the elements of guerrilla warfare.—Atlantic Monthly.

THE NATIONAL GUARD

Pushers of pens and pencils,
Workers of wood and steel,
Doctors, lawyers and business men,
Answer the bugle's peal.

Hurrying throngs of khaki,
Rumble of wagon train,
Clatter of calvary horses,
The Guard is called out again.

Back from the sun-baked desert,
Stalwart, alert and hard,
Protecting the nation's vitals,
Is the much-knocked National Guard.

Give them the praise that's due them,
For the regular calls 'em "pard."
Watch out for the wives and families of the men of the National Guard.—Kenneth Mac Dougall.

THE SWORD OF WASHINGTON

The sword of Washington. The staff of Franklin. Oh, sir, what associations are linked with these names! Washington—whose sword, as my friend has said, was never drawn but in the cause of his country, and never sheathed when wielded in his country's cause. Franklin—the philosopher of the thunderbolt, the printing press, and the plow share.—John Quincy Adams.

REGINA'S REWARD

There is an elderly member of the faculty of a New England university, a noted entomologist, who has retained in his employ a faithful cook whose services have extended over a period of twenty years.

Recently the professor summoned her to his study in a ceremonious way which was unusual.

"Regina," he began, "you have now been in my employ twenty years. As a reward I have determined to name the bug I recently discovered after you."—Harper's Magazine.

OUR FLAG

O folds of white and scarlet! O blue filled with your silver stars! May fond eyes welcome you, willing feet follow you, strong hands defend you, warm hearts cherish you, and dying lips give you their blessing! Ours by inheritance, ours by allegiance, ours by affection—long may you float on the free winds of heaven, the emblem of liberty, the hope of the world!—Anon.

With one impulse the colonies sprung to arms; with one spirit they pledged themselves to each other "to be ready" for the extreme "event"; with one accord and heart the continent cried, "Liberty or Death."—George Bancroft.
